Berliner Glas is Authorized Economic Operator (AEO)

Berliner Glas has been awarded the status of Authorized Economic Operator (AEO) by the German customs authorities. This certification confirms that Berliner Glas complies with the demanding and specific requirements of the customs authorities.

To obtain the AEO status, many criteria were reviewed:

- Customs compliance
- Appropriate record-keeping
- Financial solvency
- Appropriate security and safety standards

In all areas Berliner Glas has satisfied the demands and has received the status „AEO – Customs Simplifications / Security and Safety“. This is the highest level a company can achieve.

An Authorized Economic Operator has a special status: the company is regarded as being particularly reliable and trustworthy and as such enjoys special benefits concerning customs clearance, e. g. accelerated customs clearance, fewer customs inspections, reduced paper work. These benefits offer big advantages for our customers, too. They profit from shorter delivery times and can be sure that we are a reliable and secure partner in their supply chain.

The AEO is a status that is recognized across the EU. There are mutual agreements with Switzerland, Norway, Japan, the US and China. Mutual recognition of AEO status is a key element to strengthen and assist end-to-end security of supply chain and to multiply benefits for traders.
