Berliner Glas among the Top 200 of Berlin's economy Number of employees continues to grow

Berlin is growing twice as fast as the rest of the country, announced the Berliner Morgenpost in its issue of 12 May 2019. The number of employees at the 200 largest employers in Berlin grew by 1.9 percent in 2018. Berliner Glas has a significant share of this upswing.

Following an above-average growth of 25.3%, the high-tech company reported a total of 892 permanent employees at the end of 2018, thus ranking 138th in the Top 200 of Berlin's economy. Thus, the owner-managed, medium-sized manufacturing company headquartered in Britz-Neukölln could improve its ranking by 25 places compared to the previous year – an extraordinary result.

Berliner Glas will also continue to grow this year. In the first five months of the year, 80 new employees have found their way to Berliner Glas.

The globally operating industrial company is looking for specialists in various areas for its Berlin location, primarily in production and production support areas.

In addition to an exciting area of responsibility, modern and future-proof workplaces, as well as an open corporate culture, Berliner Glas offers standard compensation, Christmas and vacation payment, bonus pay, 30 days of vacation, and many other benefits.
